Precautionary measures

- However, while the schools are closed, some employees may be asked to provide necessary services such as payroll, so we can still provide a level of service. Supervisors are communicating with required personnel.
- Our regional offices will remain operational, with employees working from home if they can.
- Post-secondary students are being supported to return to their communities and have been given regularly updates by the PSSS admin.
- Any employee that has recently travelled or is sick is at home in self isolation.
