

Testing for Customers of Pub Royal in Chibougamau on Thursday, August 19 to Saturday, August 21

More than 30 people in Cree communities have already responded to the call to seek a screening test after visiting Pub Royal during one of the affected days.

There have not been any positive results so far.

Anyone who visited the pub between Thursday, August 19 and Saturday, August 21, and who has not yet sought a test, is advised to get tested for COVID-19 by calling their local CMC. Screening tests can also be done in Chibougamau.

If you do not have any symptoms, and you have not been contacted by public health, you can continue your normal activities even as you await your test result. If you are having symptoms, please stay home until your test result is available.

At this time we do not consider region 10 to be a region of risk they have contacted all active cases that have been isolated.
