HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY

On this day we celebrate the mothers in our lives who instinctively care for our their children and communities. We honour them for their strength, resiliency and perseverance.

They know all too well their continued impacts of sexism, racism and violence caused by settler colonialism. However, these days wWe are fortunate to see witness traditional power relations renewed, colonial oppression pushed aside and our Cree women again taking up their rightful places and reclaiming their voices as strong leaders both in our communities and in our homes. Traditionally, you have guided us through unknown times and troubles, and you remain to do so.

This pandemic has left our children feeling voiceless and alone with and the burden falling has fallen heavily on our Cree mothers, the glue holding our families together, our rocks, our life givers.

Let us honour them as our keepers of cultural beliefs and values and the pathway forward for us all and the leaders shaping our future.

Happy Mother's Day Moms, Aunties and Gookums, you are our loving hearts and our nurturing spirits and as long as you remain strong, so will our Cree Nation.
